AQUATIC SPORTS ARE POPULAR AT LUM PARK

MORE IMPROVEMENT UNDER WAY TO TAKE CARE OF THE CROWDS

ANOTHER BATTERY OF LOCKERS IS BEING BUILT FOR THE BATHERS

YEOMEN LODGE HOLDING PICNIC AT LUM PARK THIS AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Bathing is very popular at Lum Park this season. The shortage of lockers was very noticeable last week when the demand was very strong. Although they are 35 lockers and two dressing rooms, one for the boys and one for the girls under 15, for which there is no charge, the demand could not be supplied. In order to accommodate all bathers another battery of 22 lockers are now being erected and will be ready for use for Saturday evening. These lockers will be located in the large square refreshment stand, which is used but very seldom, and will be for the ladies.

The boats are made good use of by the public for Rice lake certainly is a very beautiful lake and is appreciated more day to day.

The Yeomen lodge are holding their picnic at Lum Park this afternoon and evening. They have also rented the pavilion for their dance this evening which will be for their members only.

Any organization or lodge wishing to hold outings or dances can find no better location for holding the same than can be had at Lum park. In case of inclement weather the pavilion can be used and the distance to and from this playground is short and the roads are good. Arrangement can be made by calling Hugo A. Kaatz.

New parking regulations are being made whereby the space between the pavilion and bath houses and beach will be kept clear of cars and thus eliminating the danger of bathers being struck by cars while going between these places.

PRESIDENT AS AN EVANGELIST

PREACHES DOCTRINES OF CHRISTIANITY IN HIS TOUR WESTWARD

(By LAWRENCE MARTIN Copyright 1923 by U. P.) With President Harding, Salt Lake City, Utah, June 28.—President Harding has replaced politics with religion. Mr. Harding is today one of the most active evangelists preaching the doctrine of Christianity.

His program across the country offers the remarkable spectacle of the ruler of a nation preaching like any circuit-riding preacher the gospel of Jesus Christ as the only remedy for modern economic, social and political evils, national and international.

In each of the speeches he has delivered thus far, Mr. Harding has mentioned the fact that it is his conviction that what America and the world needs is good, old-fashioned Christianity. He speaks of God frequently in all of his speeches. President Harding, the evangelist, believes most earnestly just what he is telling the American people—that they need is not a political, social or economic reformation or revolution, but a spiritual revival.

If the president continues his present policy in his speeches, there is no telling what wave of religious fervor may follow his evangelistic efforts, since he is paid more attention than any other man in the United States today.

President Harding may announce a plan for reducing taxes by the next congress in his speech at Salt Lake City tonight. Whether Mr. Harding will go this far into the matter is uncertain, but this is likely to be one of the subjects on which he will speak to his audience.

The presidential party detrained at Ogden early today and boarded motor cars for a three-hour run to Salt Lake City over dusty roads. Tomorrow, for recreation, the president may go to Zion National Park or play golf, or make a short trip into the mountains.

29 EXAMINED FOR HIGGINBOTHAM JURY

(By United Press) Lake City, Fla., June 26.—Twenty-nine veniremen were examined in an effort to obtain a jury to try T. W. Higginbotham, alleged whipping boss, accused of murdering Martin Tabert, but all were excused, and none were accepted when court recessed for lunch.

Twenty-six of the veniremen were excused because of age, illness or other such reasons. Two were challenged by the defense, and one by the prosecution. Large crowds jammed the courtroom to listen to the examination.

OUTLAWING COLLEGE HAZING ADVOCATED

EDUCATOR, ADDRESSING GOOD TEMPLARS, HITS MODERN "GLADIATORIAL CONTESTS"

Minneapolis, June 26.—College hazing is a form of lawbreaking which should be prevented by legislation, according to Dr. Arvid Reuterdaahl, president of Ramsey Institute of Technology.

"Dangerous Elements and Accessories in Modern Education" was Dr. Reuterdaahl's subject, discussed before the International Templars at Columbia park, Minneapolis. He described what he declared were vagaries of college life, criticized the method of teaching, and declared mere "book knowledge" is intellectual slavery.

Dr. Reuterdaahl made a plea for teachers, "because the future of our civilization is in the hands of our teachers."

"In many instances, athletic contests between colleges and universities have been reduced to a gladiatorial contest," he said. "On the sidelines, young girls of the flapper type vigorously voice their hopes for a speedy elimination of athletics of the rival team."

"Thumbs down" is the merciless cry of these modern "educated Amazons." Is it for this that millions of dollars are spent in erecting the great modern college arenas?

The limousine and moonshine are two of the most popular elective subjects in a modern college course. We cannot cure these evils by attempting to deny their existence."

The speaker charged that the high ideals of the founders of fraternities are being disregarded in a new social standard, which permits an affair to begin at 10 a. m. and end at 4 a. m.

"There should be either a general revision of entrance requirements, based on a broader system of intellectual appraisements," he said, "or additional institutions should be provided where the technically deficient may be provided with the educational opportunities which they so earnestly seek."

A preliminary hearing on the suit will begin here next week.

DRY LEADERS TRY TO STEM WET DRIVE

(By United Press) Westerville, O., June 26.—Dry leaders today made plans to throttle the energetic onslaught of the wets Steps to dry-pack every state legislature against following New York in repealing its prohibition enforcement code were taken by high officials of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

Forty state superintendents and ten other officials planned the first measure to curb a "back-track" on prohibition. The new fight will act to:

1. Re-adopt strict enforcement in New York and combat repealer proposals in other states by packing state legislatures with dependable "drys."

2. Make certain of an at least 90 per cent dry congress by endorsing a congressman in each district at the next election.

3. Prevent the insertion of a wine and beer plank in the next democratic national platform.

P. A. Baker said that it is evident that Governor Al Smith of New York and several other democrats are preparing to force across a wet candidate for president.

"The onslaught of the wets is now inevitable," Baker said. We are confident that Mr. Harding, who in all probability will run again, will remain dry.

St. Paul, June 26.—Normal weather returned to Minnesota today after ten days of heat and three days of violent storms.

Temperatures dropped from about 90 to below 70, and north breezes cooled the bright sunshine.

In the wake of the storms was widespread destruction and a death toll of fourteen. Seven others died in the Northwest by drowning.

High winds dealt death in southeastern North Dakota Sunday and early Monday. The storm swept over north central Minnesota adding to the casualties there.

In Adams and Bowman counties, North Dakota, scores of fine farm buildings were reduced to splinters. Hundreds more farm buildings were destroyed or damaged across Minnesota and in Wisconsin.

Telephone and telegraph companies struggled to restore fallen lines. Wire companies here estimated the damage at half a million dollars. Other damage may bring the total storm loss above $1,000,000.

LEVIATHAN FASTEST LINER, TRIP SHOWS

COST OF TRIAL TEST OFFSET BY PROOF OF SPEED, SAY OFFICIALS

New York, June 26.—No trial trip of any vessel has ever attracted such widespread attention as has the initial trip of the giant merchant liner, the Leviathan. Denounced on the one hand as a "million dollar joy ride," and praised on the other hand as a very necessary test, its voyage has been kept constantly in the public eye for weeks. It is doubtful whether any trip ever produced better results in proving the worth of a vessel. Shipping men, business men and technical experts who were guests aboard the vessel were unanimous in praising the decision of former Chairman A. D. Lasker to go ahead with the trip despite all criticism.

The outstanding feature of the trip undoubtedly was the fact that it enabled the Leviathan to demonstrate that it is the fastest merchant ship afloat as well as the largest.

Moreover, it brought to light minor defects, particularly in organization of steward and dining room service which may now be remedied. If the vessel had been put into regular service in the condition in which it made the trial trip it would have suffered a "black eye" in the eyes of the traveling public.

boat were rescued. E. S. Moore, Indianapolis, was drowned at Rhinelander, Wis., while swimming.

Two others were drowned while fishing near the Twin Cities.

Over the weekend five storms swept Minnesota from the west and northwest. Wind, severe lightning, and unusually heavy rainfall marked each storm.

The heaviest rainfall was at Fergus falls, Minnesota, Sunday night, where 5.62 inches of rain fell in 24 hours.

DRY LEADERS TRY TO STEM WET DRIVE

(By United Press) Westerville, O., June 26—Dry leaders today made plans to throttle the energetic onslaught of the wets. Steps to dry-pack every state legislature against following New York in repealing its prohibition enforcement code were taken by high officials of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

Forty state superintendents and ten other officials planned the first measure to curb a "back-track" on prohibition. The new fight will act to:

1. Re-adopt strict enforcement in New York and combat repealer proposals in other states by packing state legislatures with dependable "drys."

2. Make certain of an at least 90 per cent dry congress by endorsing a congressman in each district at the next election.

3. Prevent the insertion of a wine and beer plank in the next democratic national platform.

P. A. Baker said that it is evident that Governor Al Smith of New York and several other democrats are preparing to force across a wet candidate for president.

"The onslaught of the wets is now inevitable," Baker said. We are confident that Mr. Harding, who in all probability will run again, will remain dry.

8 DAY HEAT WAVE TOOK TOLL LIVES, BROKEN AT LAST

DEAVY DAMAGE IS CAUSED BY RAIN AND WIND APPROACHING NEAR-TORNADO

STRUCK CHICAGO-WISCONSIN DISTRICT LAST NIGHT WITH TEMPERATURE DROP

(By United Press) Chicago, June 26.—An 8-day heat wave that took a toll of scores of lives was broken by wind and rain storms over a wide area in the lower lake region today.

Heavy damage was caused by rain and wind which approached near-tornado velocity, it was reported overnight from Wisconsin. The same storm struck Chicago, doing considerable damage and driving temperatures down 31 degrees. Similar drops were reported elsewhere.

Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, the Dakotas and adjacent territory, with the exception of Missouri and Kansas, reported lower temperatures also, with cooler breezes. Heavy rains fell over northeastern Iowa.

The Chicago and Wisconsin storm was reported today heading into Indiana and Ohio. In Wisconsin it centered at Milwaukee and cities north and east, including Bandon Lake, Belgium, Waukesha, Watertown, Janesville and Madison.

The death list in the last 24 hours in the midwest included Chicago 5, Indiana 4, St. Louis 1, Detroit 5.

NORMAL WEATHER RETURNS TO MINNESOTA

St. Paul, June 26—Normal weather returned to Minnesota today after ten days of heat and three days of violent storms.

Temperatures dropped from about 90 to below 70, and north breezes cooled the bright sunshine.

In the wake of the storms was widespread destruction and a death toll of fourteen. Seven others died in the Northwest by drowning.

High winds dealt death in southeastern North Dakota Sunday and early Monday. The storm swept over north central Minnesota adding to the casualties there.

In Adams and Bowman counties, North Dakota, scores of fine farm buildings were reduced to splinters. Hundreds more farm buildings were destroyed or damaged across Minnesota and in Wisconsin.

Telephone and telegraph companies struggled to restore fallen lines. Wire companies here estimated the damage at half a million dollars. Other damage may bring the total storm loss above $1,000,000.

The death toll in North Dakota was: George Lewis and wife, near Hettinger.

W. B. Landberg, wife and daughter, Bucyrus. Olaf Lundahl, Bucyrus.

Minnesota
Mrs. Belle Millett, Mora.
Warren Dauber, Mankato.
Walter Jierly, Owatonna.
A crippled boy named King, Sturgeon Lake.

Miss Thora Brain, St. Paul.
Thomas O'Grady, Roberts Lake.
Minn. Arnerson, Lake Minnewaska.

Mrs. Eli Erickson and daughter, Mildred.

South Dakota
Clarence McIlvane, Huron.
An unidentified man near Aberdeen.

In addition to these deaths attributable to the storm, seven died in other sections of the Northwest.

Edward Hammend and William Boursche were drowned in the Missouri river near Sioux Falls while fishing when their boat capsized.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McGrew, Chicago, were drowned at Trout Lake, Wisconsin, when their boat capsized. Four other occupants of the

COMMISSIONERS BEGIN TAKING EVIDENCE ON WATER SYSTEM

Little Falls, June 26—Carl Zappfe of Brainerd and Oscar Clausen and J. S. Shannon of St. Paul have arrived here to begin the hearings connected with the condemnation proceedings instituted by the city against the water distributing system of the Little Falls Water Power Company. The commissioners who were appointed by the district court, have been scheduled to meet at several different occasions but for various reasons the meetings have each time been postponed. The board will remain in session until all evidence has been presented by both sides in the controversy.

The commissioners will then adjourn until time has been given for consideration of the evidence, after which their findings will be reported to the district court.

LEVIATHAN FASTEST LINER, TRIP SHOWS

COST OF TRIAL TEST OFFSET BY PROOF OF SPEED, SAY OFFICIALS

New York, June 26—No trial trip of any vessel has ever attracted such widespread attention as has the initial trip of the giant merchant liner, the Leviathan. Denounced on the one hand as a "million dollar joy ride," and praised on the other hand as a very necessary test, its voyage has been kept constantly in the public eye for weeks. It is doubtful whether any trip ever produced better results in proving the worth of a vessel. Shipping men, business men and technical experts who were guests aboard the vessel were unanimous in praising the decision of former Chairman A. D. Lasker to go ahead with the trip despite all criticism.

The outstanding feature of the trip undoubtedly was the fact that it enabled the Leviathan to demonstrate that it is the fastest merchant ship afloat as well as the largest.

Moreover, it brought to light minor defects, particularly in organization of steward and dining room service which may now be remedied. If the vessel had been put into regular service in the condition in which it made the trial trip it would have suffered a "black eye" in the eyes of the traveling public.

boat were rescued.
E. S. Moore, Indianapolis, was drowned at Rhinelander, Wis., while swimming.

Two others were drowned while fishing near the Twin Cities.

Over the weekend five storms swept Minnesota from the west and northwest. Wind, severe lightning, and unusually heavy rainfall marked each storm.

FLAG DAY EXERCISES HELD

Elks Braved Jupiter Pluvius When He Raged at Breezy Point Sunday Afternoon, June 24th

The Elks annual picnic, this year held at Breezy Point Lodge on Big Pelican lake, was somewhat marred by the unlooked for efforts of one Jupiter Pluvius who poured out some two inches of rainfall, enough to dampen the ardor of any association except the Elks.

In spite of the inclement weather over 100 cars made the trip. Many took up their station in the fine grove adjoining the air field and used the tables and benches before the rain set in. A soft drink stand did business in the lee of the hanger.

Later all repaired to the pavilion where the Julewood orchestra played its sweetest music. A confetti dance with special carnival favors was staged under the direction of Mrs. William H. Fawcett.

The Flag Day exercises were given under the direction of the officers and were carried out in superb manner, evoking frequent applause. The history of the American flag was given in eloquent manner by Judge Walter F. Wieland. The tribute to the flag was given just as eloquently by Hon. Mal D. Clark.

The Elks quartet, Hon. S. F. Alderman, Rowland Jenkins, R. E. Benmels and A. C. Mraz, was in splendid voice and sang appropriate songs during the exercises, and later by urgent request gave a number of popular songs, all of which evoked the loudest applause.

The air was so filled with rain gusts and the seas so heavy that hydroplane and sea sled did not venture forth from their stations and so the series of air flights scheduled by the Elks had to be abandoned.

The Exalted Ruler voiced the appreciation and thanks of the Elks of Brainerd lodge for the many kindnesses and courtesies extended by Captain and Mrs. Fawcett. Elks were present from Little Falls, Hibbing, Crosby, Ironton, Brainerd, including also many touring Elks from the Twin Cities and other cities. Many took dinner and supper at the cafe.

HOSTESS AT BREEZY POINT

Miss Marion O'Brien, daughter of J. E. O'Brien entertained sixteen of her friends at Breezy Point Lodge Monday evening, the event being in celebration of her birthday.

Supper was served at eight o'clock, and was under the direct supervision of Mrs. W. H. Fawcett, who did everything possible for the entertainment of the young people. Special decorations were used on the tables and noise-makers of all kinds were furnished the diners.

The balance of the evening was spent in dancing to music furnished by a special Brunswick phonograph.

Those who enjoyed Miss O'Brien's hospitality were the Misses Winifred Spencer, Alleen King, Loneta Hayes, Elizabeth Murphy, Elizabeth Johnstone, Ruth Beise and Margaret O'Brien, Messrs Lloyd Jones, George Orth, Raymond Engbretson, Joseph Dunn, Eugene Hitch, Herbert Webb, William Graham and Charles Hoffman.

Sentiments Expressed Are Incentives for Park Board and Caretaker to Exert Themselves

Letters like the following make the park board and the caretaker at the tourist camp site feel that their efforts are being appreciated and that the money given by Brainerd business men toward equipping the camp, is really money well spent.

This letter was written to A. G. Keen, caretaker of the local camp site, and needless to say, he prizes it very highly. It is written by C. B. Miller, of Trenton, Missouri, who with his family, enjoyed the hospitality that Brainerd extends to her tourist visitors, on June 13th.

"Dear Sir: To come home from a tour of the Northwest without thanking you for your courtesies and without a word of praise for your camp, would not be fair.

"Your camp and your personal attention to the tourists should be appreciated by all who take advantage of the camp. I found your camp the best one on my whole trip, and thank you for the privilege of stopping there."

G. R. Shuman, of Minot, N. D., added to his name on the tourist register on Monday, "This is the best camping ground in the Northwest."

Such sentiments are incentives for both the park board and the caretaker to further exert themselves in looking after the comfort and well being of the visitors.

How We Gauge the Efficiency of the Men Who Meet You

When you drive into a Northwestern Service Station for better gasoline and better oil you will at once be impressed by the attentiveness shown by the man at the pump. And you will like him for the care and the willingness with which he waits on your wants.

If it is oil, he will see that you get it—not dribbled all over your fenders but carefully poured or forced into the place where it belongs. If it is gasoline, he will see that you get full measure and that the cap on the gas tank goes home with the car.

If your tires need more pressure, he will see that they get it, and the same with the water for the radiator. And for both of these services whether you buy gasoline or oil or not, no obligation, no charge, no feeling on your part that somebody has done you a favor.

In short—whatever the pump man does for you he does with such a spirit of kindly interest and co-operation that you will marvel at it. And you will wonder how it comes to pass.

The explanation is simple. Every Northwestern Service man's efficiency and eligibility for promotion is gauged not by the gallons he sells but by the services he renders the public.

This is the Northwestern Policy and every Northwestern Pump man is in heartiest accord with it. He knows that the more he can do for you, the more he will be doing for himself. So his eagerness to serve you is entirely logical.

CHAUTAUQUA

THE chautauqua represents culture through cooperation, and the more complete the cooperation the higher the grade of culture made possible by its ministry. There are many people in a community who desire high class entertainment, hunger for good music and long for lectures that deal with the practical problems of the age. Few, however, can afford to leave their home towns that are located away from the larger centers, that they may enjoy the things for which they long in cities large enough to attract high class talent, because the population includes sufficient people interested in culture to sustain the managements that engage the singers and other entertainers.

The chautauqua affords an opportunity to those, whose interest in music may be just as keen as that of those who can afford to go to the larger centers to enjoy it, who are without the means to do what their more prosperous friends can do. By cooperation citizens in the smaller cities can bring in talent of a high order to be enjoyed by all those who appreciate the finer things in life.

Because the chautauqua, when placed on a cooperative basis which impels individuals to join together to guarantee the initial expenses, is not a profit making enterprise, those who are lukewarm over such high class entertainment will be ready to support it so that those who enjoy these things will be afforded the opportunity of doing so. Any income over and above that required to pay the talent and other expenses will be used to improve the program the following year, but it is not often that such entertainment leaves any money to be used in such improvement. More often those who stand behind the project are invited to contribute to pay the deficit.

Good music, good lectures, good readings and plays are a benediction to any community. They stimulate the lagging senses of those who enjoy them. Voices from outside bring a larger message from a larger world and raise the standard of community thought. The other numbers on chautauqua programs make for an increase of culture and refinement which results in community uplift.

Brainerd's citizens have the opportunity of enjoying first class talent this year, and their interest and support will determine whether the talent engaged for next year is to be the best procurable or of a grade measured by the inadequate support given to the chautauqua this year. By whole-hearted cooperation citizens of Brainerd may have the privilege of hearing the best entertainers here in Brainerd without the cost of traveling to larger centers for their enjoyment. America's best talent may be brought to this city if the people combine to pay for it, and one entertainment in a larger city, where the entertainment is commercialized, costs as much as the season ticket costs at home.

HABITATIONS WITH FOUNDATIONS

WHEN the weather becomes stormy during the summer season, and vacationists are caught in tents or out in the open, they are compelled to appreciate the habitations that men have builded to protect themselves from the elements. During such storms as those that have swept this part of the country during the past few days men are made conscious of their insignificance in the presence of natural forces. The habitation that is well founded may stand against such attacks but the flimsy tent will not keep out the storm and the tarpaulin is not a protection against the driving rains.

When the storms assail those who are out to enjoy the glories of the summer season in a territory that is dotted with lakes and rich in trees, they begin to appreciate the advantages that have followed man's struggle to protect himself from natural forces. When the weather is calm the out-of-doors is inviting, the tent is a good shelter and freedom from the many things that clutter up modern dwellings is appreciated; but when the wild-driven rain strikes the tent and the trees fall around the camping ground, those who are out in the open recall the early story of the man who looked for a city with foundations and went out to find this city, leaving behind him the open stretches for the city with foundations.

The compensations of life are balanced at such times and man sees that civilization has brought into the life of mankind many advantages that are not appreciated so long as they are at hand. One of the best values of tenting and roughing it lies in the appreciation it begets of the home to which one will return when the season is over. That there are compensations in traveling without the burden of accumulated paraphernalia cannot be denied; to go from place to place without any fixed schedule is advantageous at times; self-reliance is cultivated and one is freed from dependence upon the many things that are so much a part of normal living. But, on the other hand, wood-ticks, mosquitoes; wet tents and bedding; upturned tents and rent canyons, bring to mind the fact that after all modern civilization with its conveniences and its cities with foundations are a monument to man's partial success in a struggle that began with time and will be continued until he is either triumphant or defeated. Such experiences also suggest that while man may be comparatively free to do as he likes out in the wide stretches, where he raises his tent under the blue skies or storm-driven clouds, this freedom is not sufficient to outweigh the privileges and advantages of the modern American city, in which he must respect the rights of others and obey the law that makes the modern city with its conveniences a possibility and guarantees its perpetuation. In the large, the restraints of the community are as nothing when compared with the inconveniences and annoyances of the life of freedom without the community.

A MAN has been imprisoned for walking near his wife's home. Such a case shows that man's freedom is limited. Into the street on which his wife lived he was not free to go. This restriction freed the wife from annoyance.

GERALDINE FARRAR has secured a divorce from Lou Tellegen, and it isn't so long since they were self-confessed, perfect lovers. Oh, that artistic temperament that in others would be called plain stupidity!

BOY SCOUTS

(By the Organizing Committee)

Are You a Boy?—Were You a Boy?
Have You a Boy?

If any of these cases you will find great interest in the Boy Scout Movement in America. The facts will be presented in these articles from day to day.

Boys Will Be Boys

But they don't need to be juvenile delinquents. Boys are not naturally inclined to be bad. But they are naturally inclined to be busy. That being busy may take the course of violating the traditions and conventions of their elders unless their elders see to it that the training is in the direction of right, true, manly ideals.

Most juvenile delinquency finds its roots in adult thoughtlessness. The boy wants to be busy, but the older people are too busy to help him.

The tension of the boy and the inattention of the man lead to mistakes on the part of both. The result is unpleasant to both. The public also suffers. The Boy Scout movement is the ounce of prevention that is worth more than the pound of cure.

Boy All Over

The Boy Scout movement is just "Boy all over." It takes that original instinct of the boy to be busy and supplies the things to keep him busy. It gives the boy all the liberty compatible with developing true manhood.

It utilizes the things that boys want to do. It is built from the ground up on the constructive basis. Negatives are turned into positives. The boy is shown the "Why" of the things he does. Body, mind and soul are exercised in clean, straight living. The boy wants it. There are practically no deserters among boys who once join. If proper leadership is provided to keep them in the movement.

It Is American All Over

Scouting is based on the idea of education, which is pre-eminently an American ideal. It is scientific education, for it begins with what the boys know and goes from that to things they ought to know.

It does things that the schools can't do and that Sunday schools can't do. And yet the whole force of it is to increase the boy's interest in the things that the schools can do and the things that the Sunday schools are doing.

Boys are "motor-minded." They want action. They don't want to just sit and listen. But they will listen intently if what they hear is related to what they are going to do a little later. That is where the scout teaching ties up with what the schools and Sunday schools want him to think about.

Ever since our Colonial fathers planted the little red schoolhouse on the New England hills, it has been our American ideal to provide for our coming generations. The importance of the boy has never loomed larger than it does right now at the close of the Great War. The need of efficient education and American ideals has never been so thoroughly recognized. We must omit no opportunity for moulding the character of our boys along these lines. The Boy Scout movement is one of the greatest of these opportunities.

"Love Is Everything" Think Peggy and Lou

(By United Press)
New York, June 26—Lou Tellegen, about to be divorced from Geraldine Farrar, and Peggy Hopkins Joyce, also a figure in several romances, may find in each other the solace of an overpowering passion, once Lou is free, at least so Peggy said today.

The Titian-haired beauty is reported to have announced to the world that she and Tellegen are "hopelessly" in love and plan to wed.

"Tall, polished and so handsome," was Peggy's version of the matinee idol. "He is a perfect model of the type I have always wanted," she said.

Lou, on the road, hasn't told his side of the story, but it is reported that when told that the suit for divorce might be decided in his favor he exclaimed, "Love is everything."

CHAUTAUQUA

THE chautauqua represents culture through cooperation, and the more complete the cooperation the higher the grade of culture made possible by its ministry. There are many people in a community who desire high class entertainment, hunger for good music and long for lectures that deal with the practical problems of the age. Few, however, can afford to leave their home towns that are located away from the larger centers, that they may enjoy the things for which they long in cities large enough to attract high class talent, because the population includes sufficient people interested in culture to sustain the managements that engage the singers and other entertainers.

The chautauqua affords an opportunity to those, whose interest in music may be just as keen as that of those who can afford to go to the larger centers to enjoy it, who are without the means to do what their more prosperous friends can do. By cooperation citizens in the smaller cities can bring in talent of a high order to be enjoyed by all those who appreciate the finer things in life.

Because the chautauqua, when placed on a cooperative basis which impels individuals to join together to guarantee the initial expenses, is not a profit making enterprise, those who are lukewarm over such high class entertainment will be ready to support it so that those who enjoy these things will be afforded the opportunity of doing so. Any income over and above that required to pay the talent and other expenses will be used to improve the program the following year, but it is not often that such entertainment leaves any money to be used in such improvement. More often those who stand behind the project are invited to contribute to pay the deficit.

Good music, good lectures, good readings and plays are a benediction to any community. They stimulate the lagging senses of those who enjoy them. Voices from outside bring a larger message from a larger world and raise the standard of community thought. The other numbers on chautauqua programs make for an increase of culture and refinement which results in community uplift.

Brainerd's citizens have the opportunity of enjoying first class talent this year, and their interest and support will determine whether the talent engaged for next year is to be the best procurable or of a grade measured by the inadequate support given to the chautauqua this year. By whole-hearted cooperation citizens of Brainerd may have the privilege of hearing the best entertainers here in Brainerd without the cost of traveling to larger centers for their enjoyment. America's best talent may be brought to this city if the people combine to pay for it, and one entertainment in a larger city, where the entertainment is commercialized, costs as much as the season ticket costs at home.

HABITATIONS WITH FOUNDATIONS

WHEN the weather becomes stormy during the summer season, and vacationists are caught in tents or out in the open, they are compelled to appreciate the habitations that men have built to protect themselves from the elements. During such storms as those that have swept this part of the country during the past few days men are made conscious of their insignificance in the presence of natural forces. The habitation that is well founded may stand against such attacks but the flimsy tent will not keep out the storm and the tarpaulin is not a protection against the driving rains.

CANVASSERS SELL TICKETS

This Year's Chautauqua is Organized by Local People and Program So Selected

A number of men are canvassing the city, selling tickets for the Brainerd Chautauqua, which will open on Sunday next, July 1st.

The city's chautauqua experience has not been the most happy. The former only offered a set program, and the contract was all in the favor of the company.

This year's chautauqua is organized by local people and a program selected which is believed will please local people.

In many cities the chautauqua is the event of the summer and has for its patrons those who appreciate the better in entertainment and who give their hearty support that the benefits may be brought to the city.

It is the purpose of the local association to make the Brainerd chautauqua such an institution in this city. If it is well supported it will encourage the selection of the best talent in future seasons.

Sunday will open with the following program:

2:30 Lecture, "The Challenge of the Impossible," Brig. Gen. W. G. Everson, A real chautauqua speaker.

The lure of the open calls no more strongly than to the disciples of Isaac Walton—for what keener enjoyment, what greater thrill than the angler gets from the strike of the bass, the pike, or the "muskie."

But the measure of the day's fishing is materially regulated by the tackle you use. No good using surface baits, for instance, when the fish are down deep. So you want to be sure you have a good assortment of baits, that your lines are strong enough to withstand the strain to which they are subjected, that you have ample sinkers and leaders, and a good assortment of spinners and hooks.

Come in and look over our stock—more complete than ever before. Reels from $2.50 to the level winding, anti-backlash type at $25.00. Rods in various grades, weights and lengths. New silk lines with a tensile strength that will hold even the biggest.

Everything for the fisherman at our store.

To the Bank Addressed:

You will find herewith a copy of a resolution which was adopted at the thirty-fourth annual convention of this Association on June 8, 1923.

The lowering of interest rate on time deposits is the absorbing topic among bankers all over the State and the resolution which was unanimously adopted sums up some of the reasons for making a change. Like many other movements, the necessity for this change may not be clearly understood by bank depositors, therefore the writer has been instructed to send a copy of this resolution to each bank, with the request that it be given the widest possible publicity.

Will you please see to it that an article is published in your local paper or papers and bring out the facts that the consensus of opinion of bankers from all parts of the State is that safe conservative banking can not be conducted under present conditions if a greater rate than four per cent is paid on time deposits.

Very truly yours,
G. H. RICHARDS, Secretary.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it is very necessary and desirable that lower rates on loans should be charged to assist borrowers, and especially farmers, to liquidate their indebtedness, and WHEREAS, the Legislature at its recent session reduced the maximum rate that may be legally charged on loans in this State, and

WHEREAS, the rate of interest on good securities and bonds has already declined, and WHEREAS, the earning power of all banks has been thereby reduced and will be further reduced, and

WHEREAS, the burden of taxation of banks has grown enormously heavy during the last five years and also the banks of this country have suffered unusual losses during that time which must be charged against earnings, and

WHEREAS, the safe investment of our depositors' money is the first and most important essential of sound banking, and

WHEREAS, the interest rate paid on deposits in many sections of Minnesota is appreciably higher than that paid in the most prosperous sections of other agricultural states.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: that the bankers of Minnesota, in convention assembled, condemn as unsound practice the payment of a higher rate of interest on deposits than can be SAFELY earned and that in their best judgment four per cent per annum is the highest rate that any bank can afford to pay on deposits under present financial conditions if due care and safety are observed in the investment of their customer's deposits, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: that copies of this resolution be published and otherwise brought to the attention of our depositors so that they may have a full understanding of the reasons for this action.

A number of men are canvassing the city, selling tickets for the Brainerd Chautauqua, which will open on Sunday next, July 1st.

The city's chautauqua experience has not been the most happy. The former only offered a set program, and the contract was all in the favor of the company.

This year's chautauqua is organized by local people and a program selected which is believed will please local people.

In many cities the chautauqua is the event of the summer and has for its patrons those who appreciate the better in entertainment and who give their hearty support that the benefits may be brought to the city.

It is the purpose of the local association to make the Brainerd chautauqua such an institution in this city. If it is well supported it will encourage the selection of the best talent in future seasons.

Sunday will open with the following program:

Winners of Recent Membership Campaign Provide Dinners for the Winners

The Brainerd Lions club will hold its regular meeting at Breezy Point lodge Wednesday evening.

This action is the result of a recent attendance campaign, in which the club was divided into two teams, the losing team to provide a dinner for the winners.

Captain Elmer Franson's cohorts won by a nice majority, and the Ben Armstrong losers are paying their debt with a steak dinner at Capt. Franson's.

Billy Fawcett's popular resort Wednesday night.

There was some talk of making this event a "Ladies' Night", but the Armstrong contingent feel that this is more than they bargained for, so the ladies are to be entertained at some future date.

All Brainerd Lions are asked to meet at the Ransford hotel and leave together from that point at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon. All arrangements for the supper have been made at Breezy Point, and the visitors are promised a rip-roaring good time.

Members with cars are requested to carry those who have no means of transportation.

The Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Clara Lutheran church will meet this evening in the church parlors. Rev. O. M. Bloom of Valley City N. D., will speak. Miss Agnes Sunsin and Mrs. C. F. Anderson will entertain.

When Every Day is a Perfect Day

The lure of the open calls no more strongly than to the disciples of Isaac Walton—for what keener enjoyment, what greater thrill than the angler gets from the strike of the bass, the pike, or the "muskie."

But the measure of the day's fishing is materially regulated by the tackle you use. No good using surface baits, for instance, when the fish are down deep. So you want to be sure you have a good assortment of baits, that your lines are strong enough to withstand the strain to which they are subjected, that you have ample sinkers and leaders, and a good assortment of spinners and hooks.

Come in and look over our stock—more complete than ever before. Reels from $2.50 to the level winding, anti-back lash type at $25.00. Rods in various grades, weights and lengths. New silk lines with a tensile strength that will hold even the biggest.

Everything for the fisherman at our store.

SPORTS

BABE RUTH IS NOW A REAL BALL PLAYER

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Sports Editor

New York, June 26.—Babe Ruth, deposed king of home-run sluggers, is playing the best ball of his career.

His failure has proved his success. With every pitcher in the league "on to him," the Bambino, who startled the world two years ago with his home-run smashes, was faced with extreme difficulties.

No one had enough nerve to serve them up to him in the groove. They studied his batting style. They schemed his defeat. His playing this year has shown that it wasn't entirely dissipation that made him hit so few home runs last year. It was the opposing pitchers, who plotted and accomplished his downfall.

At the wind-up of last season, the Babe was confronted with failure. He knew that something must be done. With a tummy as big as Noah's ark, he was a poor outfielder. A little beer now and then may be relished by the best of men, but it doesn't make a man break the base-stealing record. So Babe decided that if he couldn't hit home runs as easily as he formerly did, he would become a baseball player.

And that's just what he did. The Bambino, trained down to the minute, is a tricky, clever, fast ball player. He can field and hit with anyone in the league. His swatting average hangs around under .350, and he races all over the Yankee Stadium for flies. He can smack them to left field as easily as to right. He is constantly gumming the works for the opposing team, stealing bases, bunting and out-guessing his rivals.

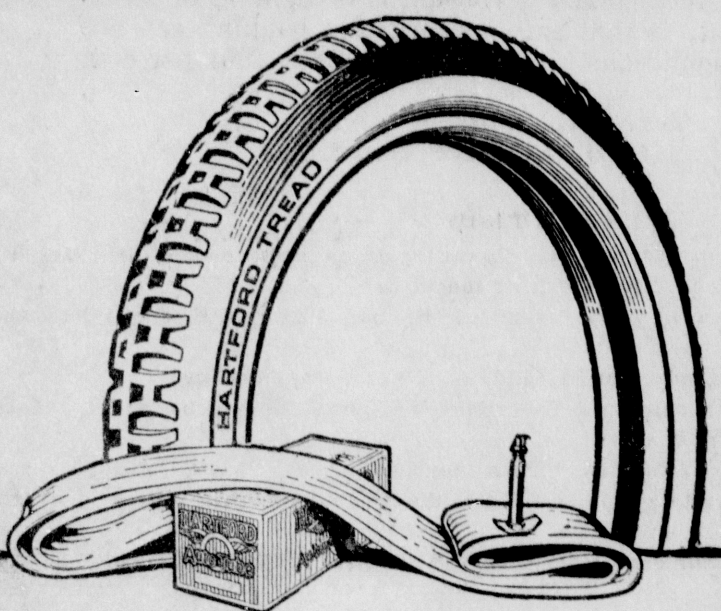

Babe is more valuable as a baseball player to the Yankees now than he ever has been. His brilliant catches and long, accurate throws are helping immeasurably on the defense and his timely batting is going far toward helping Huggins hold the lead.

Ruth now can be considered the most valuable player in the Yankee line-up.

AMUSEMENTS

Rhino Gets a Headache and Audience A Thrill

The rhinoceros has a one-track mind, four speeds forward, and no reverse. He also has an uncertain temper, ranging to temporary insanity, a dislike for white people in general, a sharp horn situated far forward, and a couple of tons of bulk to back it. When he charges, he burns the breeze, and shivering natives are plainly to be seen in the foliage of the topmost trees for miles around.

But Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson stood up to a rhino with a motion picture camera and a gun. They stood while the rhino snorted and they stood still while he charged and if Mrs. Johnson had not hit the animal at the base of the horn with an express bullet, there would have been no picture nor yet any Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson.

As it is, it is one of the most thrilling scenes in their adventure film, "Trailing African Wild Animals," which is being distributed by Metro and will be shown at the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday. It only takes a minute or so to show, and the only unpleasant result was that the rhino suffered from a very bad headache for an hour or so, and doubtless strolled off for medical advice. This is only one of the dangerous scenes in the film, which, by the way, is the first of its kind to be officially endorsed by the American Museum of Natural History.

Wm. Fox "Monte Cristo" Historical-ly Correct

Little does an audience think while engrossed by the scenic beauty of a picture that is being unraveled before it of the tremendous cost in time, work and in money which may have been necessary to reproduce a single set of the picture, and which in all probability remains upon the screen only a very short period of time, say possibly one or two minutes. Extensive and painstaking research work, extending over a period of several months are sometimes necessary; as was the case in the filming of that wonder picture "Monte Cristo," adapted from Alexandre Dumas' famous story, and which is playing at the Lyceum for the last time tonight.

Betty Compson in "The Bonded Woman"
Patrons of the Lyceum Wednesday and Thursday will see Betty Compson the popular Paramount star, supported by Richard Dix in a thrilling story of ship wreck, the South Seas, Honolulu nights, and desert islands, written by the author of "The Man Who Came Back"—a man who knows the sea as no other living writer does. The shipwreck in which the heroine runs the boat against the rocks, is one of the most realistic ever filmed and the story is a knock-out romance in which the girl travels the world to rescue the man she loves.

BOARD OF CONTROL AT CAMBRIDGE

St. Paul, June 26.—The State Board of Control today is at Cambridge inspecting a site offered for the new epileptic colony authorized by the last session of the legislature.

Detroit, Mich., June 26.—One man was burned to death and four persons were forced to the street in night attire when fire swept their homes early today. The man, John Gallias, 35, was said to have been trapped by flames when he returned to his room to recover some of his belongings.

The Human Element in Industry

IN BUSINESS there is no such thing as independence. Business is part of the social fabric where every individual is, directly or indirectly, dependent upon every other individual. The stockholder is dependent upon the employee, and the employee on the stockholder, while both are dependent upon the public who buy and consume the products they manufacture.

Stockholders and employees also are consumers. In the case of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) more than eight thousand of the employees are part owners in the business.

With a keen realization of this interdependence, the company, the management and the employees practice that sound Yankee fairness in dealing with one another, which makes for better understanding and industrial harmony.

The individual employee is a citizen just as the individual stockholder is a citizen. Whether or not he is a good citizen often depends upon whether he is busy, happy and successful in the business which engages his attention.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its employees; they are good citizens, law-respecting, thrifty, industrious and happy in their industry. Experience has proved that this type of citizen makes the best employee. The employee who is zealous in the performance of his duty, who strives to give the public as well as the Company good service, is a citizen worthy of the name.

It is a policy of this Company to pay its workmen a good wage. Also it is the policy of this Company to promote and encourage "personal contact" between the employees and the management.

This open-door policy of fair dealing has resulted in uniform enthusiasm and loyalty on the part of the employees, and because of it the Company is better able to fulfill, in a satisfactory manner, its obligations to the people of the Middle West.

Stop at Salt Lake City on your way to -

California

"Here we stop," said Brigham Young, that great Moses of the Mormon pioneers. They did stop and a beautiful city stands a monument to their labors. No tour of the west is complete without Salt Lake City. The Mormon Temple, Tabernacle, marvelous organ, Deseret Museum with relics of pre-historic and pioneer days, Wasatch Mountain drives, Great Salt Lake—all call you to stop. You can do it and also include Denver and scenic Colorado without extra cost. Take in Yellowstone National Park too—only overnight from Salt Lake City.

Go the cool way over the Rockies to California on the

The CONTINENTAL LIMITED is another fine train leaving Omaha 12:00 a. m. (sleepers ready 10:00 p. m.) Connects with morning trains from Twin Cities.
